Attention: Joe McGowan

Dear Joe,

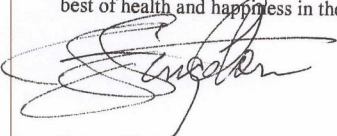

I just wanted to say how pleased we were with the recent new flat roof you installed on our garage replacing the previous material. I was never pleased with the previous contractor. It started leaking the first year and even after their efforts to repair it.

As you saw, it had begun to lift around and under the gravel guard and was leaking badly. Seeing the new layers of material being installed one-at-a-time wrapping over the edge of the roof and metal cap is a far better solution. The cricket you installed to build up the low area also seems to be working as this recent rainy spell has proven. There is very little in the way of residual water now.

The metal work you did to cover my fascia boards and the upper side of the wall where the garage joins the house is great. It will lessen my maintenance load to be able to wash it down with water rather than have to keep re-painting the former wood siding. Your advice and recommendation on a permanent solution here worked out well.

I know your crew stayed late the first day to insure the first layer was water-tight so the subsequent rain would not be a problem and it wasn't. My wife was also pleased with how polite and helpful your men were. I look forward to the thaw this spring and many to follow with no drips or wet walls inside the garage.

I would be happy to endorse your company and its service to anyone in the future. All the best of health and happiness in the New Year.
